

“We hold all quality of work to the highest possible standards. Our client’s wish is our command. We are here to bring the next generation of video marketing and film design to a new level. We shape our own excellence that is Kinetic Typography.”

We believe in

1. taking complex ideas and churning out simple messages
2. dramatic appeal
3. constructive feedback
4. thinking outside that box up there
5. backup copies
6. letting the client steer the project without burdening them with the work
7. karma
8. taking action now instead of putting deadlines off for later
9. triple proofreading
10. transforming your market
11. taking breaks and having fun

How we hire talent

12. superstars only – no exceptions
13. we want people with passions – so that they can translate into their work
14. you have to have an eye for detail – details ALWAYS matter

How we deliver

15. You have the right to a perfect, crisp, high-definition deliverable
16. We don't finish the deliverable until you love everything
17. You don't love everything until the music and the voice over match the video
18. We don't add the music and the voice over until you approve it
19. You don't approve the sound until the video sequence is animated
20. We don't animate the video until we get the story board set in stone
21. You don't set the story board in stone until we finish writing the script
22. We don't write the script until you talk to us about your audience and goals
23. You don't reap the benefits of creative video making until you contact us
